"Female" Bachelors Multiplying. To read day by day of the number of emale bachelors that are being turned out by the colleges is something quite tartling.

We shall see some astonishing figures when the next census is published in full. Already one doctor in every tweny-five ls a woman, and one twenty-eighth of all the preachers are women. One-eighth of the college professors chairs are now filled by women, while one journalist out of every twenty is a woman. In telegraphy and clerking women show signs of tet taking the whole field.

While such facts are multiplying, it is notorious that the marriage rate is steadlly falling. The whole face of society appears to be changing, for the woman with a diploma is not looking for a husband. She is a bachelor.

The problem of industrial independence is gradually being solved through he new order of society which puts woman so largely at the helm of the world's affairs. This, however, is not he only problem to be solved. When the world scomes full of women doctors and lawers and professors, somebody must pro-ride the material to be preached to and cured and taught-else the bachelors will ultimately find themselves loaded with empty professions.

TRIUMPH OF CHRISTIANITY

Dr. Talmage Says the Church of Christ Is the Most Endearing Institution on Earth.

Its Unsurpassed Growth -- Infidelity Refuted.

Washington, D. C. — Although Dr. Talmage was hindered from attending the great annual meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society at Cincinnati, his sermon shows him to be in sympathy with the great movement; text, Amos ix, 13, "Behold the days come, saith the Lord, that the plowman shall overtake the reaper."

Unable because of other important duties to accept the invitation to take part in the great convention of Christian Endeavorers at Cincinnati, I preach a sermon of congratulation for all the members of that magnificent association, whether now gathered in vast assemblage or busy in their places of usefulness, transatlantic of that magnificent association, whether now gathered in vast assemblage or busy in their places of usefulness, transatlantic and cisatlantic. And, as it is now harvest time in the fields and sickles are flashing in the gathering of a great crop, I find mighty suggestiveness in my text.

It is a picture of a tropical clime, with a season so prosperous that the harvest reaches clear over to the planting time and the swarthy husbandman, busy cutting the grain, almost feels the breath of the horses on his shoulders, the horses hitched to the plow preparing for a new crop. "Behold the days come, saith the Lord, that the plowman shall overtake the reaper." When is that? That is now. That is this day, when hardly have you done reaping one harvest of religious result than the plowman is getting ready for another.

In phraseology charged with all venom and abuse and caricature I know that infidels and agnostics have declared that Christianity has collapsed; that the Bible is an obsolete book; that the Christian church is on the retreat. I shall answer that wholesale charge to-day.

Between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 Endeavorers sworn before high heaven that they will do all they can to take America for God, Europe for God, Asia and Africa for God, Europe for God, Asia and Africa for God—are not the signs most cheering? Or, to return to the agricultural figure of my text, more than a million reapers are overtaken by more than a million plowmen. Besides this, there are more people who believe in the Bible than at any time in the world's existence.

But now let us see whether the book is the world's existence.

But now let us see whether the book is But now let us see whether the book is a last year's almanac. Let us see whether the church of God is a Bull Run retreat, muskets, canteens and haversacks strewing all the way. The great English historian Sharon Turner, a man of vast learning and great accuracy, not a clergyman, but an attorney as well as a historian, gives this overwhelming statistic in regard to Christianity and in regard to the number of Christians in the different centuries: In the first century 500,000 Christians, in the second century 2,000,000 Christians, in the fourth century 10,000,000 Christians, in the fifth century 10,000,000 Christians, in the sixth century 24,000,000 Christians, in the seventh century 24,000,000 Christians, in the seventh century 24,000,000 Christians, in the eighth century 30,000,000 Christians, in the inth century 40,000,000 Christians, in the tenth century 70,000,000 Christians, in the eleventh century 70,000,000 Christians in the tentury 40,000,000 Christians in the tentury 70,000,000 Christians in the chattery 70,000,000 Christians in the tentury 70,000,000 Chris Christians, in the tenth century 50,000,000 Christians, in the eleventh century 70,000,000 Christians, in the twelfth century 80,000,000 Christians, in the thirteenth century 75,000,000 Christians, in the fourteenth century 80,000,000 Christians, in the fifteenth century 100,000,000 Christians, in the sixteenth century 125,000,000 Christians in the sentury 125,000,000 Christians in the sentury 125,000,000 Christians in the sentury 155,000. the sixteenth century 125,000,000 Christians, in the seventeenth century 155,000,000 Christians, in the eighteenth century 200,000,000 Christians—a decadence, as you observe, in only one century and more than made up in the following centuries, while it is the usual computation that there were at the close of the nineteenth century 470,000,000 Christians, making us to believe that before this century is close the millennium will have started its boom and lifted its hosanna.

Poor Christianity! What a pity it has no friends! How lonesome it must be! Who will take it out of the poorhouse? Poor Christianity! Four hundred millions in one century.

of the nineteenth century there were only 50.000 converts; now there are over 1,000,000 converts from heathendom.

So Christianity is falling back and the Bible, they say, is becoming an obsolete book! I go into a court, and wherever I find a judge's bench or a clerk's desk I find a Bible. Upon what book could there be uttered the solemnity of an oath? What took is apt to be put in the trunk of the young man as he leaves for city life? The Bible. What shall I find in nine out of every ten homes in this city? life? The Bible. What shall I find in nine out of every ten homes in this city? The Bible. In nine out of every ten homes in Christendom? The Bible. Voltaire wrote the prophecy that the Bible in the nineteenth century would become extinct. The century is gone, and I have to tell you that the room in which Voltaire wrote that prophecy not long ago was crowded from floor to ceiling with Bibles from Switzerland.

wrote that prophecy not long ago was crowded from floor to ceiling with Bibles from Switzerland.

Suppose the Congress of the United States should pass a law that there should be no more Bibles printed in America and no Bibles read. If there are 60,000,000 grown people in the United States there would be 60,000,000 people in an army to put down such a law and defend their right to read the Bible. But suppose the Congress of the United States should make a law against the reading or the publication of any other book—how many people would go out in such a crusade? Could you get 60,000,000 people to go out and risk their lives in the defense of Shakespeare's tragedies or Gladstone's tracts or Mccaulay's "History of England?" You know that there are a thousand men who would die in defense of this book where there is not more than one man who would die in the defense of any other book. You try to insult my common sense by telling me the Bible is fading out from the world. It is the most popular book of the centuries.

"Ob" say reade" "the church is a col-popular book of the centuries.

"Oh," say people, "the church is a collection of hypocrites, and it is losing its power, and it is fading out from the world." Is it? A bishop of the Methodist church told me that that denominations are the same that the distance of the mean that the same that the dist church told me that that denomination averages two new churches every day.
In other words, they build 730 churches in that denomination in a year, and there, are at least 1500 new Christian churches built in America every year.
Does that look as though the Christian church were fading out, as though it were a defunct institution? What stands nearest to the hearts of the American people to-day? I do not care in what village or what city or what neighborhood you go.
What is it? Is it the postoffice? Is it the hotel? Is it the lecture hall? Ah, you know it is not. You know that that which stands nearest to the hearts of the American people is the Christian church. American people is the Christian church. You may talk about the church being a You may talk about the church being a collection of hypocrites, but when the diphtheria sweeps your children off, whom do you send for? The postmaster? The Attorney-General? The hotel keeper? Alderman? No. You send for a minister of this Bible religion. And if there is a song to be sung at the obsequies, what do you want? What does anybody want? The "Marseillaise Hymn?" "God Save the Queen?" Our own grand national air? No. They want the hymn with which they sang their old Christian mother into her last sleep, or they want sung the Sabbath-school hymn which their little girl sang the last Sabbath afternoon she was out before she got that awful sickness out before she got that awful sickness which broke your heart. I appeal to your common sense. You know the most endearing institution on earth to-day is the church of the Lord Jesus Christ. A man is a fool that does not recognize it. The infidels say: "There is great liberty The infidels say: "There is great liberty now for infidels—freedom of platform. Infidelity shows its power from the fact that it is everywhere tolerated, and it can say what it will." Why, my friends, infidelity is not half so blatant in our day as it was in the days of our fathers. Do you know that in the days of our fathers there were pronounced infidels in public authority, and they could get any political position? Let a man to-day declare himself antagonistic to the Christian religion, and what city wants him for mayor, what and what city wants him for mayor, what State wants him for Governor, what na-tion wants him for President or for king? Let a man openly proclaim himself the enemy of our glorious Christianity, and he cannot get a majority of votes in any State, in any city, in any county, in any ward of America. The Christian religion is mightier to-day than it ever was.

These opponents say that science is overcoming religion in our day. They look through the spectacles of the infidel scientists and they say: "It is impossible that this book be true. People are finding it out. The Bible has got to go overboard." Do you believe that the Bible account of the origin of life will be overthrown by infidel scientists who have fitty different theories about the origin of life? If they should all come up in solid phalanx, all agreeing on one sentiment and one theory, perhaps Christianity might be damaged, but there are not so many differences of opinion inside the church as outside the church.

Oh, it makes me sick to see these liternice along with a copy of Dar-might be damaged, but there are not so many differences of opinion inside the church. Oh, it makes me sick to see these literary fops going along with a copy of Darwin under one arm and a case of transfixed grasshoppers and butterflies under the other arm, telling about the "survival of the fittest" and Huxley's protoplasm and the nebular hypothesis. The fact is that some naturalists, just as soon as they find out the difference between the feelers of a wasp and the horns of a beetle, begin to patronize the Almighty, while Agassiz, glorious Agassiz, who never made any pretension to being a Christian, put both his feet on the doctrine of evolution and says: "I see that many of the naturalists of our day are adopting facts which do not bear observation." These men warring with each other—Darwin warring against Lamarch, Wallace warring against Cope, even Herschel denouncing Ferguson. They do not agree about anything.

Then you have noticed a more significant fact if you have talked with people on the subject—that they are getting dissatisfied with worldly philosophy as a matter of comfort. They say it does not amount to anything when you have a dead child in the house. They tell you when they were sick and the door of the future seemed opening the only comfort they could find was the gospel. People are having demonstrated all over the land that science and philosophy cannot solace the troubles and woes of the world, and they want some other religion, and they are taking Christianity, the only sympathetic religion that ever came into the wo history the megatherium and the ichthyosaurus had to pass out of existence, and then you go on in your scientific consolation until you get to the sublime fact that 50,000,000 years from now we ourselves may be scientific specimens on the geologic shelf, petrified specimens of an extinct human race, and after you have got all through with your consolation, if the poor afflicted soul is not crazed by it, we will send forth from any of our churches the plainest Christian we have, and with one half hour of prayer and reading of Scripture promises the tears will be wiped away, and the house from floor to cupola will be flooded with the calmness of an Indian summer sunset. There is where I see the triumph of Christianity. People are dissatisfied with everything else. They want God: they want Jesus Christ.

The fact is that infidelity and agnosticism are founded on ignorance geological, ignorance chemical, ignorance astronomical, ignorance geographical. We have heard what the enemies of Christianity have had to testify. Now I put before you the testimony of the church on earth and the church in heaven. Not fifty, not a thousand, not a million, but all of the church on earth and all of the redeemed in heaven.

Will you take the evidence of those will you take the evidence of those who have witnessed as well as felt the power of religion, or will you prefer the testimony of those who begin by declaring that they have never witnessed or felt its power? You tell me that on a certain 4th of March, twenty years ago, a President of the United States was inaugurated. How do I know it? You tell me there were 20,000 persons who distinctly heard his inaugural address. I deny both. I deny that he was inaugurated. I deny that his inaugural address was delivered. You ask why? I did not see it. I did not hear it. But you say that there were 20,000 people who did see and hear him. Is not the testimony of the 20,000 who not hear it. But you say that there were 20,000 people who did see and hear him. Is not the testimony of the 20,000 who were present worth more than the testimony of one who was absent? Now, there are some men who say they have never seen Christ crowned in the heart, and they do not believe it is ever done. There is a group of men who say they have never heard the voice of Christ, that they have never heard the voice of God. They do not believe that anything like it ever occurred. I point to twenty, a hundred thousand or a million people who say: "Christ was crowned in our heart's affections. We have seen Him and felt Him in our soul, and we have heard His voice. We have heard it in the storm and darkness. We have heard it again and again." You say morphia puts one to sleep.

Ne have heard it in the som and again.

You say morphia puts one to sleep.
You say in time of sickness it is very useful. I deny it. Morphia never puts anybody to sleep. It never alleviates pain.
You ask why I say that. I have never tried it. I never took it. I deny that morphia is any soothing to the nerves or any quiet in times of sickness. I deny that morphia ever put anybody to sleep. But here are twenty persons who say they But here are twenty persons who say they have all felt the soothing effects of a phy-

Young man, do not be ashamed to be a friend of the Bible. Do not put your friend of the Bible. Do not put your thumb in your vest, as young men some-times do, and swagger about, talking of the glorious light of nature and of there being no need of the Bible. They have the light of nature in India and China and in all the dark places of the earth. Did you ever hear that the light of nature Did you ever hear that the light of nature gave them comfort for their troubles? They have lancets to cut and Juggernauts to crush, but no comfort. Ah, my friends, you had better stop your skepticism. Suppose you are put in a crisis like that of Colonel Ethan Allen. I saw the account and at one time mentioned it in an address. A descendant of Ethan Allen, who is an infidel, said it never occurred. Soon after I received a letter from a professor after I received a letter from a professor in one of our colleges, who is also a de-scendant of Ethan Allen and is a Chris-tian. He wrote me that the incident is scendant of Ethan Allen and is a central stan. He wrote me that the incident is accurate; that my statement was authentic and true. The wife of Colonel Ethan Allen was a very consecrated woman. The mother instructed the daughter in the truths of Christianity. The daughter sickened and was about to die, and she said to her father, "Father, shall I take your instruction, or shall I take mother's instruction? I am going to die now. I must have this matter decided." That man who had been loud in his infidelity said to his dying daughter: "My dear, you had better take your mother's religion." My advice is the same to you, O young man! You know how religion comforted her; you know what she said to you when she was dying. You had better take your mother's religion. mother's religion.

Big Catfish Turned Around. The 70-pound Mississippi river catfish at the New York aquarium turned around last week. That's the first time he's moved in bed for weeks. He hasn't eaten anything for months, but that's his way in winter. But though he's been without food for so long he has not apparently lost flesh. He seems to be just as round and plump as he was last summer. For some weeks now the old chap has been just lying down on the bottom of the tank, at the back, with his head at that end of the tank toward the waterfront of the building. Last week he roused up and ended 'round with his head toward Battery park. That's where he was when his record was taken, and that's the way he's lying now, unless he's shifted again, which isn't likely, for it isn't quite time for him yet to wake up and put a move on. He hasn't eaten a thing yet, this spring, but he'll be around now pretty soon, and then he'll make up for his long starving; for he's a versatile old chap, the big cat; he can give Doctor Tanner cards and spades and beat him at fasting, in winter, and then bankrupt the board in winter, and then bankrupt the

An artistic decorator gives as the requisites of a bedroom, first, com fort; second, a restful atmosphere; and lastly, such beauty as may be. Elaborate or handsome furnishings are entirely out of place, and in no room in the whole house are inharmonious combinations more unbearable.

Color effects and combinations have reached such a fine point in house decoration that those seeking the best results will only use dark wood picture frames in rooms with dark woodwork, and water colors in light frames in rooms with white woodwork.

Curtains of cream Colonial net make admirable summer window hangings and outer ones of green raw silk accompany them nicely.

The Fairfax divan covered in the real, slippery, old-time horsehair of our grandmother's day, but much modernized as to design and coloring, is now an extremely fashionable piece of furniture.

Anything quaint finds favor these days for home adornment. It may be awkward, it may not be nearly so convenient as a similar modern thing, but if it is "quaint" or "oldtimey" it is the desired thing.

The jute one hears so much about for summer use should not deceive one by its name into believing that it is always simple or inexpensive. On the contrary, it often has all the appearance of silk brocade, and comes in both plain and figured goods and in the two-toned styles. Yet when one sees and feels one appreciates what an admirable summer upholstery stuff it is.

Colored organdy curtains are the personification of dainty coolness for summer for a young girl's room or for milady's boudoir. One charming new design is in striped effect, a tiny lace stripe and a running stripe of tiny roses.

Madras in stained glass effects is another of this season's most favored hangings. Art nouveau designs are also prominent, together with a lattice weaving.

Gobelin-blue burlap is slowly coming to the front as the fashionable wall covering in combination with white woodwork, supplanting the green that has held sway so long.
